Run: 1387
Hare: Blow Fly

Date: 01 September 2017
Venue: Padbury

THE RUN

First day of Spring, but the evening was colder than ever, rain clouds gathered and the wind blew strong and cold from the South.

None the less 30 devoted Hashers gathered in the Hare's back yard, Blow Fly was kind enough and had put a tarp up to shelter us from the strong cold wind. The Chimenea was burning and kept those warm that decided not to go out on the run.

The Hare donned his helmet and swung himself on his bicycle, I suppose to keep a close eye on the runners, as the farrows had faded with the rain.

We set off into the dark and cold night, but the On Sec with a handful of others decided on a short walk through the park and back home, a wise choice as it started to rain again.

The rest of the pack stayed out quite a long time, probably shepherded on by the hare on his bike, deep into the neighbourhood of Padbury. An hour later they all returned, wet and weary but still with a smile on their faces.

THE CIRCLE

The GM called for a circle, he promised it would be a short one, firstly because it was a very cold night and secondly for fear someone else would faint on him again.

First DD went to Rockbottom, who has recovered from her fainting episode last week.
