Run: 1390
Hare: Wisecrack (&Spackle)

Date: 22 September 2017
Venue: Bullcreek

THE RUN

I do admit that I sometimes venture back and read old hash sheets, as they are still informative, constructive and useful, but most of all entertaining, like the one written by Tight Arse on 2nd October 2012 (!!) with the heading "Cold Night - Hot Stew". The Hare was Phantom. I found it very appropriate, seems five years on it was, again, a cold night and the tasty stew (curry) a welcome warmer.

And yup cold it was, wet and rainy, but we were all rugged up and ready to hit the trail. 25/30 had core hashers waited for the call to take off. 15 MeNuts sported a new flashing harness. The GM mounted his crate, well before the 7 o'clock start, enough time to share his Singaporean Adventure with us (I spare you the details), and to give Wenchy, who actually arrived at the venue well before the start, extra time to get ready. Finally the time was right and the Hare Wisecrack (even though it says Spackle in the hareline) gave instructions: the farrows aren't farrows as such, more like big, fat, longish scribbles, hard to miss and waterproof. There is a runners' and walkers' trail, but no drink stop. The OnOn pointed to somewhere in the distance. The walkers had no trouble finding trail, as the Hare was amongst them, pointed in the right direction and made sure they were back in 30 minutes. The runners arrived not much later.

THE CIRCLE

Again, the GM mounted the crate and called for a circle, seems this is more a call to quickly head back to the nibbles' table and stock up for the proceedings.

Dead Squid reporting for the walkers found it a good walk, nice and short 5 1/2 (really)

Replicar for the runners also thought it was a little on the short side, but the RA kept the rain away, all good and 8.5.

Low scoring run, average of 7

RA'S ZERO HEROES

Dead Squid 510, Replicar 1030, Sir Fumbles 650

Sheep Shunter: another raid of the piggy bank, he delivered in 5 cent pieces
