THE RUN

Despite the cyclonic conditions and some confusion in regard to the run site heaps of poor people with no better offers turned up at Mouth Organ and Ballwrinkle place for the Xmas run. The hares words were blown away but the finger signals sent us on our way. The trail was well marked so really there was no excuse to get lost. There were xmas lights and xmas lights and more xmas lights accompanied by a police car with xmas light flashing. Oh and some snow. After what seemed like many hours we found the drink stop. Champers and orange. Instantly the run seemed better, but then oh shit the hare informed us we were about half way. With dragging feet and full glasses the pack split into several groups and kinda made it home a bit over an hour in drips and drabs.
