THE RUN

All escorted out the front runners right , walkers left and follow Megawatt. Even then some of the walkers took a wrong turn, some ended up in the runners trail. Hashers can't follow instructions. There was some confusion in and around the university but all got home for champagne and lollies mostly before the rain came down. Dead Squid reported on the walkers not really serious as he had his own run and Franga for the runners also did his own thing. Replicar commented that we went round and round.
