Run: 1461

Date: 15th February 2019

Hare: Mountain Hawk

VENUE: Monument Hill, Boundary Rd, Mosman Park

THE CIRCLE: Thanks to Mountain Hawk and Tightarse hashers had half the lights in a tightly packed carpark, creating a nicely intimate feeling for the 45 hashers which gathered tonight. The run took in a good cross section of terrain and sights, Spackle was called forth to critique for the runners, he was bitterly disappointed at how flat it was with not enough hills, ha ha ha quite the opposite, and gave it a score of 9.75/10. Gaylord was summoned to critique for the walkers, he seemed a bit confused though as he was saying it was too long and too short, perhaps too much talking on the trail to pay attention, he did however notice a lot of sexy men, really? He scored it 69, or is that 6+9=15?

Visitors and LTNS: We had one visitor tonight with Gay.

Long-time no sees saw almost a record with 9 which included High Beam, Animule, Bickus Dickus, Horny Flasher, Ten Per Cent, Hard One, Never Hard, and Tootight.

CHARGES: Megawatt was stand in RA again this week, the GM gave him a down down in recognition of his efforts. The RA began by charging Tightarse for a tight park run, as he managed to get a run in quite a tight area.

Next Cookie was charge for bragging how thanks to doing Pilates she was able to stand on one let an put on her undies.

Deliverants was charged with forgetting which year it was.

Light My Fire and White Pointer were given accolades for being the only hashers to read the sign on the run for free fruit by picking the correct fruit rather than just any fruit.

We had a Rising Star recognised tonight with D Cell being recognised for appearing on TV in the pre-game entertainment for the Fremantle Dockers Women's Football game last weekend.

15MeNuts and Swozy were charged with rolling up in new cars.

The GM charged shadow for eaves dropping on and impromptu committee meeting and, in the process, kicking over Swozy's drink, which she did replace.

Next the GM charged Tootight for completing 50 runs, and Tightarse was delighted as well as it's the only time his not the oldest person present.

Shadow charged Deliverants for new shoes.

Gaylord charged Wenchy for parking in front of an emergency entry gate, and then for weaving all over the place after the run when attempting to move her car – Hashers can't drive?

Sybill charged White Pointer for calling up and asking where the run was despite being all the correspondence available to hashers.

Next the naive 15MeNuts was charged for speaking out and asking for the charges to seas and she was running out of room on her page.

The lack of note taking room didn't stop the GM for creating more charges, he charged Wenchy and Buttered Buns for talking in the circle.

Next the GM, while taking a sly look at 15MeNuts, cheekily carried on and rightfully thanked D Cell and Beau for stepping up to cover next week's run.

With 15MeNuts, in tears and learning short hand in a hurry the circle moved onto the next item on the agenda.

GENERAL BUSINESS: Cookie requested that hashers respect the honour system for the drinks and pay up any I.O.U. as the money taken was $15 down last week.

BIRTHDAYS: Mountain Hawk was given a traditional birthday song from Tightarse, not to be outdone White Pointer helped Mountain Hawk celebrate turning 73 as he too was 73

DUMMY SHORTS: Rambling was charged for failing, despite being away last week, to wear the dummy shorts on the run. Shadow was charged for her parking skills, and Franger, the current winner, was charged for winging. The unanimous winner this week was Shadow.

JOKERS: Cookie as always delivered another hilarious joke about a senior citizen group out on a bus trip, which saw a case of mistaken identity between a tupai and ladies bushes.

GPS had a true story about Rose and their bed. Wenchy had a joke about the same buss driver in Cookies joke where this time he was offered some chocolate covered almonds, which weren't covered in chocolate anymore. To finish off Tightarse told a joke about a Scottish guy, which was running late for a funeral and some amused council workers.

Next week's Run D Cell and Beau, Macauly Park, Hammer Parade. Inglewood 6052

SONG: Tonight, we had a trio with Ten Per Cent, Biggus Dickus and Mountain Hawk
