Run: 1491

Date: 27th September 2019

Hare: Maussie and Call Girl

VENUE: Piney Lakes, Murdoch Drv, Winthrop

THE CIRCLE: This week we had 33 hashers turn up for a brisk evening, the runners and walkers found themselves taking in both the bushland and suburban streets of Winthrop, with the hare making good use of the small adulations in the terrain to help the runners build up a sweat while maintaining a brisk pace. Sadar was called upon to speak for the runners, Sadar particularly enjoyed the run as it reminded him of his younger days when he use to frequently run in and around Winthrop and scored the run 9.89.

Puki Merah, took it easy tonight and stayed with the walkers, so the GM took the rare chance to get Puki Merah to speak on behalf of the walkers instead of the runners. Puki Merah found the walk invigorating, scenic and well-marked, however the inclines did prove maybe a little too challenging for some walkers, earning a score of 9.8

Visitors and LTNS: Puki Merah and Buttered Buns

CHARGES: RA this week was almost caught short, for it was seconds before the run that the GM approach Megawatt to stand in. Thanks to his previous RA experience he was able to command the weather, and ensure no misdeed went unnoticed out on the run which later would earn down downs in the circle.

Zero Hero's Blowfly 150, White Pointer 370, Sir Fumbles 730, and Cookie 1110.

Requiring heavy maintenance during the week Cookie and Troppo.

Infractions – Beau, going the wrong way around a roundabout and speeding along the footpath, Beau was also charged for calling out misleading information as while running he claimed to be a woman with a pram in order to get hashers to clear out of his way.

Late to the drink stop, some walkers were not pleased to find the bar had closed by the time they got there, some were lucky enough to be able to be reimbursed back at the circle while some missed out altogether. The GM called out Maussie to explain himself, Maussie tried to claim some walkers got lost, this excuse didn't hold up and he was had to face the charge of failing to wait long enough.

During the charges the GM was kept warm on his left side by various hashers who were talking out of turn, Shifty was first, who was then swapped by Buttered Buns, then by Suka, Tightarse

Deliverants charged Shifty for not remembering how to call hash car

The GM charged Call Girl for her poor selection of the venue as the GM had a post in his way, only upon writing this have I realised that the GM only had himself to blame for this as he had placed his crate in that position.

Hogshit tried to give himself accolades for helping Callgirl find her way home, the circle disagreed, one thought "Oh God" the OnSec said "Oh no his not, his just a very naughty boy". Monty Python fans will know the humour of this

Sybill tried dobbling in Shifty for a charge, instead the GM felt Sybill should face the charge for dobbling

General Business: Cookie 1100 badge.

Close to our heart run this Tuesday.

Radar "Lids for Kids" as requested hashers collect plastic lids like milk bottle tops and bread tags to help make prosthetic limbs for kids.

The GM showed an example of the design for the long sleeve tops for our special birthday and asked for a show of hands on various ideas: collar or no collar, colour choice, and collar choice.

DUMMY SHORTS: thanks to Dcell bringing them this week we were able to find a new dummy. The nominees were Beau, Sadar, and White Pointer. The winner was Sadar.

JOKERS: Cookie, Dead Squid, Mountain Hawk

Next week's run: Suka 44 Slalom Drv, Wembley Downs
