Run: 1533 Date: 9/10/2020 Hare: Speckles VENUE: Bulls Creek

The Circle: Number: 31

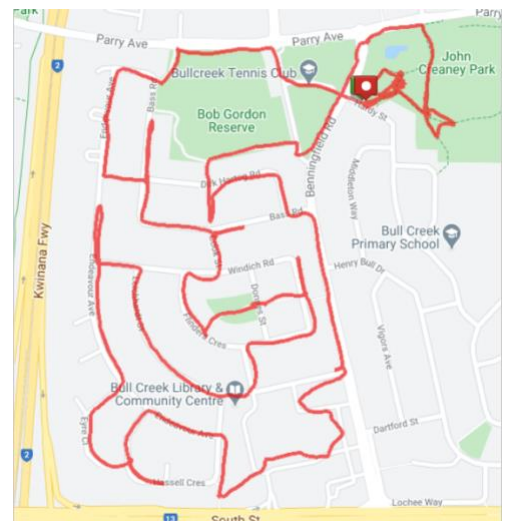

What a glorious night down yonder in Bulls Creek, some hardy, well maybe not so hardy?? hashers left their northern suburb abodes as the sun was going down, and still giving out warmth, to arrive at Bulls Creek with night time setting in, it wasn't really that Bulls Creek was colder than the north, as a few of these hardy hashers commented on (oops and yes Stand in On Sec was one)it really might have had something to do with the sun needing to get some shut eye. Not everybody was cold however, a few of us noticed Slugger got the 'hots' and did a striptease half way through the run.

Speckles promised us a tight run, which got Tight Arse all excited as he thought the run was being named after him.

BJ was called on to give a runners report, BJ announced that it was the first time he'd run for quite some time, he agreed that the run was tight?? But all the circles made him dizzy but he had fun, then he so politely thanked the Stand in GM High Beam, BJ gave the run 9 Light My Fire stepped in to give her report on the walk, she said it was good and well marked and gave it 9.5, how much did you say you paid her Speckles?

Some lovely snacks were provided although one hasher thought one of the biscuits was made of cardboard, I won't name and shame, but he does do some wonderful work marking off the false trails for the walkers, oops sorry Hogshit, 😊

Wisecrack was getting worried her pies would be soggy, but they were delicious.

Visitors and LTNS:

Ping joined us again as well as Old Molar who originally hailed from Botany Bay, although she originally hailed from Perth and Stand in GM checked that she had done her quarantine, even though she'd been in Perth for quite some time.

Zero Heroes:

Sardar reached his 600 runs, unfortunately committee members were off partying down South somewhere and forgot to leave us stand ins a badge, I'm sure we will make it up to Sardar next week.

Ballwinkle 160 Light My Fire 160 Slugger 480 Wenchy 640

Charges and Accolades:

RA charged BJ for being a slow learner, once again we were looking for Cecilia

Suka charged all the men who had beards, at least the women had kept theirs trim. She wanted to know if it was an October thing or still a result from COVID.

Mountain Hawk charged Ping who was using her phone in the circle, Ping blamed her slow drinking on being a Buddhist and being new to drinking.

RA called Suka up, she had hidden evidence of lost property, a rather dirty wine glass with remnants of red wine was not claimed by anyone, Suka advised by RA to not tamper with the evidence no washing it as we may need to do a DNA test next week.

Birthdays:

Ping and Beau

General Business:

RA advised that there will be a poor mans Nash Hash in March, details will be with the Rag

Dead Squid interrupting, trying really hard to get a drink off splash hash, not sure what he interrupted the circle for

Hogshit-advised that with the increase of bottle and can costs as now we can cash in on our bottles and cans, he will bring an esky each week, and will cash in our bottles and return the funds to the Splash funds, Dead Squid asked if he could bring his weekly 300 bottles to Friday as well.

Dummy Shorts:

RA sheepishly admitted to leaving them at home, didn't even try to shift the blame to Radar.

Jokers:

Cookie-joke about blonde playing golf with four guys with impediments

Dead Squid-about telephone timelines in different parts of the world (he finally got his drink and went quiet for the rest of the night)

Song:

Radar led the harmonious, haggard, hardy hashers into the Friday song
