Run: 1579

Date: 8th October 2021

Hare: Wenchy

Venue: Morley

What a glorious night it was that saw 32 hashers meander over to Morley to enjoy a bit of comradery, RA must have worn his knees out in his negotiation for such fine weather. I think a few shoe soles were worse for wear as well on our small troupe of runners, having got a below par score on her last run our Hare decided to make up for it and sent the runners on a doozy. Walkers were not overly concerned when the runners didn't appear back at base until 8. 25pm, they just did their bit by eating all the snacks and drinking all the piss.

Troppo's little helpers, Radar and On Sec stepped in to make their virginal hash splash, while Troppo was busy out front resoling his shoes and drying off his own splashy sweat.

GM called the circle and Sardar was called in to rate the run, Sardar was on a high not only did he thoroughly enjoy the loooooong run he also got to cuddle the Hare in gratitude. Maid Muffin being short and sweet made her report short and sweet, she said the run was good, well-marked and enjoyed it.

We had a few LTNS/visitors, Dynamo, Hard case, Disgraceful and Jam Jars and our virginal Jude, who was made to cum by Whoreda.

Then it was time for the esteemed RA to step in having thrown the cassock on over his virginal sweat, having just made it back in time from the run to participate in the circle, and having very little time to gather the evening sins, he started the evening with honouring our zero heroes, Rambling has been a stalwart with FH3 since 1977 and has reached 880-runs, Animule 690, Dead Squid 650 and Sir Fumbles 490.

Then it was onto charges, RA called White Pointer in, we know there have been sightings of sharks in the Swan, but it was the first time we'd seen a walrus as far north as Morley. RA shared a confession of two couples he'd run into recently that were indulging in some wife swapping. Then Troppo having by now recovered from the run came up to the confessional and confessed that he really had run too far. On Sec charged GPS who thought Radar and On Sec were talking about him when they talked about something long, straight and hard, Meladjusted charged Maid Muffin for new shoes, which was reversed. Then it was time for the runners with sensory deficits to step into the circle for having missed markings and calls on the run, Sardar, Troppo and Hogshit proudly downed their DDs.

GM brought a delicious cake along to share his birthday with everyone.

Then it was onto general business:

- I'm going to start with some stats, I love stats, I reckon I'd do well doing sports stats, mmm..... maybe not, I'd get distracted by those muscly men- Suka asked me to put out a special request for November we have 3 runs without hares, and this also led to the only thing that got discussed in GB, although I use the word "discussed" lightly. But back to the runs uncovered, I have done a quick tally this morning of the year's runs, and we have had over the year 50 regular hashers, so perfect we have 50 runs. What's not so perfect is that we have 10 regular hashers that haven't set a run this year and please we all understand that things happen and there are going to be times we can't get it together due to health, travel, work, etc and we just can't set a run. However, the impact of not setting a run is that this number of ten people equates to the seven wonderful hashers that actually set two runs this year and the three runs that are uncovered, and I also need to make a special mention here of the numerous runs our Hogshit has helped with. Sometimes we share a run with another hasher, like Beau and I, but we ensure we do two runs a year between us, we are such goodie goodie two shoes!! ☺
- Now for the part of GB that I feel could have been approached differently, our hares do a magnificent job, setting runs and cooking food takes up a good part of the day, a lot of effort is put in to providing a fun evening for all, we need to be respectful. Everybody's opinion is important, this is our Club and we should all have input into what is happening. Some members are disgruntled with the wording on the AGPU flyer and I think it is important that things can be discussed in an adult fashion, but it was very uncomfortable last night how this "discussion" escalated into a bit of a slinging match across the circle. Please consider in future how you approach issues in the circle, and remember we are a fun group. The issue wasn't resolved as there was too much talking and very little listening, please feel free to contact our GM and discuss this further.

And then miraculously the mood lifted, because we are just such wonderful people, GPS raced into the circle ahead of the GM's call for dummy shorts he was ready to fight anyone for possession, only to be left crawling out of the circle with his tail between his legs as Tight Arse has decided to he loves wearing them sooooo much he's not coming to hash just so that he doesn't have to hand them over.

Then the jokers took front stage, Maid Muffin starting with her joke about a girl's night out, that ended walking through the cemetery, Cookie followed with her tale of blue pills and On Sec telling his grandson about his oral sex life, and Inspector Gadget finished off with a great tale of a talking dog.

Next week's run-read the Rag..... oh you are reading the Rag!

RTT was called fifth to lead us in our Friday anthem. And everyone enjoyed some yummy spag bog, thanks Wenchy.

AGPU-I am collecting names of who is going to attend the AGPU, please let me know at hash or SMS 0423 729 704 or email carolvm@live.com.au. We need numbers for catering.
