Run: 1582

Hare: D liva rants/Beau

Date: 29th October 2021

Venue: Shenton Park/oops Nedlands really

This week's run was the absolute cream of all runs, best trail, absolutely best food, just the best everything, what else I am supposed to say writing up about my own run. It's my party and I'll cry if I want to ☺. Well, maybe it wasn't up there with the best of the best, but Beau did a mighty fine job of setting the run, there was a drink stop in a lovely park and two very empty pots either indicated that there was not enough food or the food was OK. But On Sec forgot a small but very important item, I will allude to this later, just to get you reading the entire Rag.

Most of the 39 hashers, dressed to impress in Halloween gear, made it safely to the fffffff Futsal Club on Smyth Street, but due to a fffffff---up where On Sec put the wrong suburb in the Rag, and no this is not the fffffffaux pas I mentioned before, On Sec duly got a charge later in the circle from Rockbottom for this wee error, as several hashers fffffffound themselves on the wrong side of Aberdare, sorry ghouls I fffffffigured there weren't too many fffffff Futsal Clubs in town ☺ I sound like I could tell one of Inspector Gadget's jokes.

Back to the run and circle, GM called "circle up", as usual, many times, then when the dust finally settled Beau and On Sec came in to face the music. D Cell who had escaped quarantine to join us, said there were lots of farrows, lots of checks, and that she likes long ones and there was a nice DS, she enjoyed the run. Then we had two reports for the walkers as we must be getting a bit old, we had Light My Fire for the fast walkers and Dead Squid for the slow walkers, jeez soon we'll have the zimmerframe walkers. Both critics said it was a good run and Light My Fire enjoyed being led astray by Beau.

Our esteemed GM called in LTNS, Blowfly, for a DD. Pickled Piper put his hand up, but he just wanted to let GM know that haberdash had failed him size wise. I already mentioned that D Cell likes long ones, not that he was looking for hash gear to cover that area though.

Then the RA, who once again showed he's got a direct line to the almighty weather decider, producing a lovely breezeless evening, started the circle proceedings off with the zero heroes, Shadow 580 and his righteous self with 440.

RA charged Replicar for practising wizardry, he had put a spell on his hat to stay on for the entire run, Sardar was next up but he'd done a disappearing act, so a look alike, GPS???, was called in to take his charge for not dressing up. Hogshit was charged for sounding like the Walking Dead when calling on on. Fortunately RA's final charge didn't include a show and tell as Shadow was charged for being the Op Shop queen, the only item she had on that didn't come from there was her knickers, at least she had them on tonight. Mouth Organ charged Shifty for being inappropriate on the run, claiming that Ballwrinkle had a big prick. Troppo stepped up to confess that he had woken the dead, lucky Phantom!

General business:

- Phantom produced a drink bottle that had been left behind last week.
- GPS thanked everyone for being there for him and expressed how important that support was in helping him through the tough times of late.
- Now have I still got your attention, time for the little item On Sec/Hare forgot.....a simple rubbish bag. This may seem insignificant, but it is the Hare's responsibility to ensure that there are either rubbish bins at the chosen site or to produce a rubbish bag, and this omission led to some hashers choosing to put rubbish in with the drink eskys and the esky that Hogshit provides for the empties. And Hogshit has one of the more time consuming volunteer roles on the FH3 committee, bringing a varied supply of sustenance for you all to enjoy each Friday, we don't leave him with rubbish disposal to deal with as well.

Made Muffin excelled with her joke telling tonight, she remembered the joke and didn't read it off her phone, well done MM, who shared her tale of the guy with a toothache and the viagra treatment, then On Sec told one about the class in Rockingham Primary School and the difference between a stork and a shag. Cookie had us on edge as she led up to the punchline of the research done on why the penis head is larger than the sheath, we waited patiently for Cookie to compose herself to do the final line and hand movement, great joke. Then Blowfly shared his true story about getting breathalysed on his way home from Adelaide.

Next week's run-Megawatt with his co-hare, Pickled Piper, 3 Park Avenue, Crawley

Slugger led us in song to complete the circle.
