Run: 1622

Hare: GPS

Date: 19th August 2022

Venue: Canning Vale

Here we go boys and girls, another Friday night out with the Friday Hash House Harriers and another event with zero rain, just how long can White Pointer keep this up? Long live the RA, but wow betide him when it does rain...

A good turnout of 31 Hashers descended upon a quiet cul-de-sac in Canning Vale. GPS must have good neighbours, or maybe they know better and go out for the night. Who knows, but GPS' back yard was a great location for the weeks FH3 gathering.

With our GM D Liva Rants still on holiday, we had Troppo as our stand-in GM for the night and he declared that the night was to be one of jokes and that we should all be ready with one for the circle, then he soon had everyone gathered around for the run directions from GPS that seemed a little than a bit more convoluted than needed. Especially given that we were in a dead-end street with only one way out... It was at this point that GPS introduced us to his number one son (does he have others I hear you ask) Brendon, who was quickly given his Hash name of SOB. It was at this point that he discovered that he was in charge of the Drink Stop. GPS started talking about compass settings and which way the run would follow out of his garage with a certain amount of confusion, but on the positive side there were the two runs and a Drink Stop to look forward to. So off out the pack took off. Rowdy Rabbit and Gadget were the walking wounded and so they accompanied SOB in his car to go help set up the Drink Stop and get ready to welcome everyone with either a splash of Port or Sangria with a dash of lemonade. The only oversight was no rubbery worms or candy, which I must admit no one really made a fuss about. Note to all future Hares...

Back at the Run Site and there was a little confusion about how to get back into the property as SOB had dropped the roller door to the garage but hadn't locked it. With GPS out on the run with the rest of the mob, panic started to set in as to how the runners (and walkers) would get access to the back yard. Then the front door was tried and that hadn't been locked either! So it was thru the front door and then try to raise the roller door without a motor (how hard can this be?). Just as well GPS lives in a safe community or maybe the sight of some 20+ cars parked outside scared off any would-be thieves... The roller was lifted and normal service was resumed, so to speak.

It took the usual several attempts to get a circle formed in an oblong garage (go figure) with Troppo standing on a crate ala D Liva Rants, then Troppo delivered on his promise of it being a joke evening by starting the circle announcements with a couple quick short jokes read from his handphone. I'd suggest that he changes his Joke Page to another site as he soon had everyone groaning. C'mon Troppo, you normally do better than this. Perhaps it was the elevated crate position that went to his head...

On with the run discussion and Replicar was asked for his thoughts on the run. Too many Indians stole the arrows he reckoned. Sardar took exception to this as Replicar then awarded the run a rating of 9/10. Next in was Mental Disorder to share his thoughts as a walker. But it was a dog of a story as he claimed that there lots of marked pee stops but he was concerned about arse sniffers (Mini Disorder wasn't complaining...). Mental also awarded the run a 9/10.

Visitors & LTNS – Now the fun started. There were numerous visitors headed by GPS' son SOB whose new name took a little while to be agreed upon. Then we turned to a lanky bugle playing Hills Hashers by the name of Skippy, who single handed lowered our average age by 30 years... The LTNS included Franger; D Cell; Bag Lady; Tightarse & Mountain Hawk. Poor old Rowdy Rabbit could barely keep up with the Down Downs... It was good to see you all.

Troppo then started calling for charges and got the ball rolling by calling in Skippy for relaying new non-standard strange Arrows (Rock Arrows?) that had everyone confused, which wasn't too hard to achieve... Those Hills people are a strange lot, must be lack of oxygen up in the Hills where they run with mountain goats and the like. Next in was Franger; Beau; Sardar and that young whipper snipper, Skippy. All brought in for a Down Down for disrespecting the stand-in GM.

At this point the circle was handed over to our inimitable RA, White Pointer. He got straight down to it by calling in our Hash Cash, Radar for being overzealous in chasing Run Fees from our two visitors just as the Run was about to start. Personally, I would commend her as we never know if these people are going to do a runner (get it, oh alright, its another pathetic joke...). But then Replicar wanted the charge reversed. Is that the same as running backwards?? Then the AFL got brought into things as White Pointer called in Hogshit for being a Brisbane supporter, WTF!! Then SOB (you remember him, SOB, son of GPS?) was brought back in along with Skippy (SOG, son of God!!) for kissing feet. Whose? The RA? Not mine... I think Skippy was trying to break the record for the number of free Down Downs to get his monies worth from the Hash Cash...

Next in to lay some charges was Mental Disorder. He charged Bag Lady with leading him astray by parking her car several doors away and taking him to the wrong house up the road. Bag Lady looked all rather confused claiming innocence, but Bag Lady, you have to remember that this is the Hash and being innocent has nothing to do with having fun and a good time. You'll get even with him another time... And who was it that Mental claimed was causing a queue inside the house at the toilet door?

Tightarse called in Skippy (again!) for having a big ego with the nickname SOG and blowing his own trumpet along with Franger for running past the Drink Stop and being first back to GPS's place to then get involved in a bit of break and entry as they found the front door unlocked and entered the house. We're a friendly lot on the Friday Hash...

White Pointer called in our stand-in Hash Flash, Light My Fire who was replacing Troppo as he was busy playing at being the GM. Meanwhile I heard that Sheep Shunter was getting excited by the state governments expansion of the Perth railway network and new cars... Some people are easily pleased is all I can say...

High Beam called in Troppo for an accolade from last weeks run when she lost her scarf whilst out on the trail. Turns out that on the following morning Troppo went out in search of said scarf and found it for her. What a man. Talking of Lost & Found, Gadget showed off a plastic drinking glass that got left behind last week and it appears that it might belong to Cookie. Guess what its going to cost you to get it back Cookie??

Zero Hero's – On in Troppo (1370 runs) and Replicar (1210 runs). Well done gentlemen.

Birthdays – It was right after the Zero Hero's that it was proclaimed that Slugger's 70th birthday hadn't been properly recognised, on in Tightarse to sing to her his 70th Birthday Song. There you go Slugger, how did it feel to be serenaded by a Yorkshireman??

The weeks Jokers were Gadget; Mental Disorder & GPS. Troppo made another guest appearance to try and make up for his poor showing at the start of the run.

Dummy Shorts – Inspector Gadget was relieved to hand over the Dummy Shorts after a dispirited vote involving GPS (no security) and Bag Lady (see earlier comments) and the vote went to Bag Lady. Remember Bag Lady, it's an honour and privilege to be presented with the Dummy Shorts, even if you are innocent...

NEXT WEEKS Run 1623      26th August      White Pointer      Mueller Park, Subiaco Rd., Subiaco

The circle was closed with the Hash Hymn led by Tightarse, our singing Yorkshireman

The evenings meal was a lovely bowl of vegetable soup served with a hotdog & bread. Thank you GPS
