I'll start by asking all the ladies to kindly read a special article further down in the General Business section of this week's Hash Rag. In fact, it was discovered that few of you actually read the whole thing, so I am wondering if the Rag should be a much shorter thing??

Could this Friday just gone, be a record? Yes, another dry Friday run and we're only just unto Spring with summer a long ways off. At this rate White Pointer (currently over east) will be thinking that his powers extend long distance! 30 Friday Hashers turned up at Meladjusted & Radar's home.

As usual the Runners were sent on their way and the Walkers ambled out hoping that the Runners had sorted any early Farrow direction issues. There was no Drink Stop this week and it was straight back to Meladjusted & Radar's house where Meladjusted had lit a very welcome wood fire for anyone feeling just a little chilly in the night air. Our GM D Liva Rants got the circle started and before we could get things underway, Meladjusted had to clear some doggie doo doo to which the GM said that it couldn't be Mini Disorder (aka Chicco) unless of course Kato had eaten him...

Cookie was asked for her thoughts on the run for the walkers and she thought that there was some confusion at the start, then we heard that GPS had the map... Which explained many issues... Beau was next in to share his thoughts on the run itself saying that he thought that the run was well marked even if it did go past a Drainage Facility (Huh?). Both scored the run as 9.5, so no calculator needed to work out the average.

Visitors & LTNS – There were no LTNS and just two visitors brought along by Mountain Hawk & Tightarse. Both known from the Medan Hash in Indonesia, a warm welcome to Jingle Bells and Roller. Come again soon...

With the RA still AWOL over east, Megawatt was invited to be this week's stand-in RA. As can be expected, he had been diligently making notes early on prior to the circle being formed and on in first was D Cell who was noted to be running naked...!!! Perhaps I should clarify that comment. She wasn't wearing her usual electronically illuminated outerwear. Next in was Troppo for doing a striptease act by the swimming pool to get some warmer clothing on, so he tried to explain. Everyone else thought that he was practicing to be a flasher. Then there was a comment that women can't read maps, but neither can Ballwrinkle. I wonder who he has been leading astray?? Mental Disorder was brought in for having to carry Mini Disorder out on the run as the little bugger decided to go on strike refusing to walk let alone run. And the little bugger is only three years old. Then it was the turn for Mountain Hawk to come in for getting her drink knocked over in the house whilst queueing for the toilet. What a waste of good liquid...

As the floor was opened for others to bring about some Charges, Tightarse was first up to call in Radar & Meladjusted for having their Aussie flag flying at half-mast in honour of Her Majesty having recently passed away. That was more of an accolade than a charge. Then Tightarse introduced the two visitors to Perth who he knew from Indonesia but had not been there for more than 30 years (see above visitor notes). Then the GM stepped back into the circle and called in Mental Disorder to explain how come all the contact names that he given her to say hello to whilst on Lombok were all dead!! Doesn't he know anyone who is still alive?? On that note we closed the circle.

Zero Hero's – On in Phantom with 1380 runs and Animule with 730. Congratulations to both.

Birthdays – Not a sausage, nada, zilch.

The weeks Jokers were Cookie, Meladjusted & Troppo who as usual were all good for a laugh.

The Dummy Shorts were given back to Mental Disorder at the start of the run after he had been awarded them back on his run #1624. Then once in the circle there were calls for new considerations for them to awarded to. Under consideration was Troppo; Mini Mental & Gadget. The cheers made it very clear as to who should be awarded the Dummy Shorts. Gadget once again was the people's choice. And what had he done this time you may well ask? Well in last week's rag he had managed to successfully confuse Horney Flasher & Maid Muffin. Both ladies had written to the On Sec in the week to complain about his error, so we know that there are at least two Hashers out there who are paying attention to what the On Sec writes...!!! My apologies to both Ladies. Mia culpa...

The circle was closed by the Hash Hymn led this week by Sardar

Radar dished up some Italian noodles with meat sauce that was well worth a second trip to the table and grab some bread slices at the same time. Lovely grub Radar, thank you.

The On Sec, Inspector Gadget had a serious chat to all the ladies present and through this rag to all those not present, on the very serious matter of the next Hash Years Hash Committee and the new incoming On Sec. The point is that a number of ladies have been approached by Gadget about stepping up to the plate to volunteer to be next years On Sec. As everyone knows, it's not simply a case of being the On Sec for one year, but agreeing to sign on to a two-year term on the committee with the 2nd year representing the Friday Hash Harriers as the GM. The tradition has always been to alternate the roles between the men and the ladies as On Sec and GM. The thing is that unless a lady volunteers, the committee will have no choice but to appoint a male On Sec for the coming year meaning that the following years GM will again be a male. Phantom spoke about the role being supported by all the ladies and asked that one of the ladies seriously considers taking on the role. My mobile number is at the top of the page (On Sec – Inspector Gadget 0422 203 125), I'm waiting for your call to answer any questions that you may have re the role, or you can talk with the current GM or any past female GM's about becoming the On Sec & GM. Looking forward to hearing from you, one of you, please...

Last week we awarded Bell Boy with a Hash Mug in recognition of his role in helping a lady out on the trail two weeks ago who was calling for help as she was having an asthma attack. We have since heard from the other Hasher (Where's the Miner) thru Mental Disorder, that he had been contacted by the ambulance service that the lady in question was most grateful as she feared for her life that night and was concerned that she might've not made it. Again, well done both.
