Run: 1628

Hare: Inspector Gadget

Date: 30th September 2022

Venue: Beaconsfield

Well whaddya know, another rain free Friday – whoopie. And Gadget had gone to such lengths to find a new location that included an illuminated covered area. This will be a biased write up as the On Sec and the Hare were (are) one and the same. What was interesting was the number of Runners who seemed to struggle with the location address, despite Gadget having attached a detailed map to last week's rag. Meladjusted admitted to an error at the last minute for having the map upside down and Rowdy Rabbit called Gadget to ask "Where the hell are ya? I'm here and can't find you!!". Turns out he was next door at the 'other' field. Map! What map?? Thankfully 27 Hashers found the place and turned up to see what Gadget had in store for them.

Our esteemed GM (Da Liva Rants) was there to get a circle formed to hear where the run started. Gadget had made a one run suits all size Hashers hoping that the Runners would help the Walkers to shortcut a few corners. Back to the drawing board Gadget... The front Runners made the Drink Stop within 30-35 minutes, which was located at Gadget's son's place in Hilton. The Walkers started to arrive a good 15 minutes later. All were treated to a drink of port and a bowl of lollies. Shadow had volunteered to assist Gadget at the DS and as we prepared to close up shop, we realised that a few Hashers hadn't been through. This included Animule, Radar & Meladjusted. Shadow wanted Gadget to drive the streets in search of them. Buzzer that said Gadget as he shouted at Tigtarse to check if they were at the Run Site and to give him a call to let him know. That request was later to prove Gadgets undoing as it earned him a Down Down back in the Circle. A call from Meladjusted confirmed that all three were safe and sound having short-cutted back to the Run Site thus allowing Gadget to close the Drink Stop and head back.

After the pre-requisite table of post-run nibbles, the GM called the Circle and was pleasantly surprised that for once she didn't have to bellyache everyone to crack to it. Last week's Hare Phantom was asked for her thoughts on the run. She said that it was short, sharp & sweet. Next in was Dynamo to comment for the Walkers. She thought that it was very good. Did Gadget get off lightly? No scores were registered, which was maybe just as well...

There were no Visitors and just two LTNS's. On in Shifty and Dosh. However, Dosh complained that she was a LTNS last week. But the GM made a comment about some children still missing... Keep returning Dosh and I guarantee that next week you wont be shown as a LTNS.

The RA (White Pointer) you remember him, he who wears a white gown, is still AWOL and this week's stand-in was Meladjusted and the stand-in Flash for a missing Sir Fumbles was High Beam. Thank you both. But before handing over to the stand-in RA, D Liva Rants called in Shadow for being fruity!! I must've missed something, was she playing with a banana? And then she called in Sybil and Troppo for talking in the circle. Nothing too unusual there... Meladjusted took over as the RA and called in Shifty for complaining about long grass as she sneezed her way thru the next 10 minutes. She was joined by Buttered Buns; Dynamo; Light My Fire & Mountain Hawk as fellow Short Arses to have a Down Down each. Next Charge went to Radar for not using Hash Names when short cutting back to the Run Site. In the same context Wisie was called in for also not following Hash protocol and using non-Hash names when referring to the GM. This topic was on a roll as Mountain Hawk and Tightarse were also brought in for a DD for calling Gadget by his 'other' name. GPS & Zipit got a DD for doing something naughty that the scribe wasn't entirely clear about... Probably better that way, he's such an innocent person... The GM got back in on the act calling in Tightarse for referring to the GM as a Hash Mistress. She wasn't taking kindly to this new name, but as both Tightarse and Gadget have a history of Hashing in Indonesia, I know that the GM's there are referred as to as HM's otherwise known as Hash Masters or Hash Mistresses. So no ill intent meant. Or was there??? Then Tightarse called Gadget in to be charged for stupidly asking Tightarse to call Gadget back via mobile phone to advise on the possibly missing runners. Gadget knows full well that Tightarse would rather use smoke signals than turn on a mobile phone, which he never carries. Megawatt decided to step-in with a few charges calling in the short cutters Animule; Radar & Meladjusted. He then called in Replicar for marking false trails with poor chalk that was crumbling at the very touch. Meladjusted stepped back in to issue charges claiming that GPS & Tightarse had damaged his trailer by walking into it using their heads as battering rams. But we all know that where there's no sense, there's no feeling... Nuff said...

Zero Hero's – On in Sardar – 610 and Spackle – 230 runs. Well done gentlemen.

Birthdays – Nada, zilch, zippo

The weeks Jokers were Troppo with a batch of one liners that were getting quickly shot down followed by Tightarse to tell us about brain surgery.

The Dummy Shorts went to GPS after due consideration was given to Spackle and Gadget.

The circle was closed by the Hash Hymn led this week by Mountain Hawk

The Meal for the night was prepared by Mountain Hawk who kindly stepped in to assist Gadget. There were many compliments on her Frankfurter Goulash served with mashed potatoes, thank you Mountain Hawk.

NEXT WEEKS Run 1629 7th October Small Goods 3 Janeville Place, South Guildford
(Please don't fill the cul-de-sac with your parking – please use River Bank Boulevard)

The run is a Joint Run with Rocky City Hash House Harriers, so a good turnout is expected.

Under Other Business.

The GM attended the RCH3 The Pink Run which she tells us was well attended with 137 Hashers generating lots of money for a good cause. Well done everyone who attended this great event.

Under LOST PROPERTY, Buttered Buns displayed a black top that had been left behind at her place a few weeks back. You know who to talk to if your wardrobe is missing this little number.

The On Sec, Inspector Gadget is still looking for a new On Sec for next year. This is not a time to be shy or thinking that you can't do this, you can. It just needs a positive attitude with can do thinking. Please step up to the plate to volunteer to be next years On Sec. As everyone knows, it's not simply a case of being the On Sec for one year, but agreeing to sign on to a two-year term on the committee with the 2nd year representing the Friday Hash Harriers as the GM. The tradition has always been to alternate the roles between the men and the ladies as On Sec and GM. The thing is that unless a lady volunteers, the committee will have no choice but to appoint a male On Sec for the coming year meaning that the following years GM will again be a male. Phantom spoke about the role being supported by all the ladies and asked that one of the ladies seriously considers taking on the role. My mobile number is at the top of the page (On Sec – Inspector Gadget 0422 203 125), I'm waiting for your call to answer any questions that you may have re the role, or you can talk with the current GM or any past female GM's about becoming the On Sec & GM. Looking forward to hearing from you, one of you, please...

All complaints should be sent on a post card to my ex-wife, she is really good at telling you where to go and what to do when you get there in three different languages... Oh Happy Days...
