RUN: 1651-

Date: 17th March 2023

Hare: Rockbottom /Crusher

Venue: Midland Railway Sq

Friday night jollies for 36 hashers that dared venture to Midland on St Patricks Day. Some were dressed in green others weren't. I heard our GM had bought tights with shamrocks on, one size fits all apparently didn't, probably just as well! Disappointingly no little green leprechauns although we had Cookie as a tall skinny leprechaun with a limp. Another beautiful night thanks to our RA who went AWOL this week as he had a "better offer" wink wink nudge nudge.

Anyway, off we set with some trepidation, walkers walking runners running. Turns out there are some lovely sights to see in and around Midland. Lots of Historic buildings, the old railway building home to just a lonely pharmacy. Great scenery as we meander around a lake. Several hashers commented they will come back in day light to check out the sights.

Another brilliant drink stop, with our hares supplying us with crème de menthe and rum cocktails. Not sure what it was called but it tasted great. Irish stew complete with 2 cans of Guinness in it was enjoyed by all.

Cookie had baked some lovely buns, oh ok then I will rephrase that to “cupcakes” adorned with green frosting. Yummy!

Our circle was a bit “faulty towers” but hey its hash and anything goes right? Our esteemed GM thought he had some general business to discuss but then changed his mind. He is just trying to keep us on tenterhooks until he unveils the details of our next weekend away.

Runners Report

Hogshit said he didn't run tonight but enjoyed the new territory, he thought he was waiting for a train. Really, he was trainspotting for Thomas. Despite missing Thomas, he said it was great and scored it 9.5.

Walkers Report

Bag Lady reported that it was an excellent run with nice homes and mentioned she passed where the Men of Trees used to be. Scored the run 9.75.

Visitors and LTNS

We had 3 visitors tonight, Skippy, Rollo and Clock Work Orange.

Charges

Megawatt stepped up to the plate and stood in as RA.

Hogshit and Hardcase were charged for not wearing green. Hardcase tried to object claiming he had green on, but the RA deemed it was not green enough! Rockbottom and Mental Disorder charged with their leprechauns been incognito due to the lack of green adornments. Cowpat and Cookie charged for being cripples.

Accolades

D Liva Rants gave Cowpat an accolade for bringing an Irish colleen namely Clock Work Orange to hash on St Patricks Day. Ballwrinkle gave himself an accolade for been first back from the run. Mel Adjusted tried to interject claiming Ballwrinkle wasn't first back. The circle erupted as Mel Adjusted was last back so how would he know?

The GM called Michelle into the circle as it was deemed, she needed to be given a hash name. A few suggestions were Ma Belle from the GM. Tightarse asked if she was related to D Cell and suggested Ma Cell and D Liva Rants suggested Scully, I also heard escargot mentioned not sure who by.

Scully won the day, due to her amazing ability to scull fast and furious with no spillage. Scully gave us two demos and yes, she can scull!

ZERO HEROES

No heroes of any description tonight. Where is Superman when you need him!

Birthdays

Nor any birthdays.

Jokers

Rockbottom Cookie and High Beam gave us all a good laugh.

Rockbottom told one about Paddy and Murphy with Paddy hanging from the ceiling like a light bulb and when he fell off to go home, Murphy left too claiming he couldn't work in the dark.

Cookie told one about the birds and the bees, with Mum been a creationist whilst Dad tells his son we descended from Apes. Mum cleared it all up by telling her son that's your dad's side of the family.

High Beam told a joke about parking where the sun shines.

Dummy Shorts

Franger is still at large with the dummy shorts with Hopping Mad desperate to get her hands on them and GPS mourning the loss of them.
