28 Hashers turned out looking for fun and a run at Wenchy's place. As usual Wenchy didn't disappoint.

Wenchy warned us she had set a "Wenchy" run, also known as a long run and indeed that turned out to be the case. A few hashers did take a short, short cut and it was still 8pm when they got back. For some it took longer, and we were getting concerned for 4 hashers, just before the search party went out, they were seen tired and weary trudging back looking for sustenance. All in all, a great run finished off with a great Chilli Con Carne.

Runners Report

Tightarse reported for the runners, he was full of biblical quotes tonight he decreed that "The first shall be the last and the last shall be first". Hence, he called it the Biblical Run. We all saw a side of Tightarse we didn't know existed. Surprising what hash can bring out in people. Not sure if he in fact came in last or not but reading his quote, I think that might have been the case. He called it a great Biblical run.

Walkers Report

Animule reported for the walkers. He said it was a long and longer run and he hadn't taken any short cuts, but I think he wished he had. Scored it 9.5.

Visitors and LTNS

Soixante Muff, Menstrual Disorder, Wenchy and Shadow we all LTNS.

Charges

Never Hard and GPS were charged with talking oil prices and lifting the general talk to a higher level, namely intelligence.

Sardar who had exited the hash was charged with parking in the middle of the road. Mental Disorder was called in to take a proxy down down.

Animule, Mel Adjusted, Radar and Bellboy were charged for being tailenders.

Radar charged Never Hard for being German and apparently, they don't have ginger beer in Germany. Who knew, obviously Radar.

Replicar charged Troppo for not going far enough when doing checks so next time Troppo go all the way!

Soixante Muff charged Mega with missing his Specsaver appointment and therefore missing something on the run.

Tightarse with bible in hand charged Sybil for shortening her hash name from Impossible to Sybil and for not salsa dancing and singing or maybe dancing and singing too much.

MelAdjusted charged Sybil for being dyslexic due to her having transposed her run numbers and jumping from 598 to 958 runs. Good for her I say she is wanting to join the elite athletes at the top of the pecking order.

Accolades

The GM gave White Pointer an accolade for holding back the rain.

Accolade for Replicar for standing in for Hogshit and doing the mark offs with a giant piece of chalk.

Mental Disorder was given an accolade for being Menstrual which is quite a feat.

ZERO HEROES

Gadget a zero hero at 80 and Menstrual Disorder at 20.

Birthdays

Would you believe none.

Jokers

Tonight's jokers were High Beam, Mental Disorder, Gadget, and you guessed it Troppo.

Troppo told 3 jokes which seems to be his repertoire all unforgettable for all the wrong reasons. But hey I am laughing as I write this so from that aspect, Troppo was as always very funny.

High Beam told one about a Priest in a plane that crashed, and the pilot got to go to heaven because there were more people praying in the plane than prayed in St Marys Church on Sundays.

Mental Disorder told one about a guy getting into bed with his mother-in-law by mistake and giving her one. He told his wife about his terrible mistake. The wife confronted her Mother asking why didn't you stop him and her response was "because I am not speaking to the bastard".

Gadget told a joke about Paddy whose wife was having an affair. Paddy decided to end it all for both of them. But shot himself first.

Dummy Shorts

Hopping mad waited so long to get the shorts she decided to stay away and hold on to them, so carry over.

Under other Business

Reminder for SOP Bunny Run 6th April fly attached.

Palace Run coming up 6th June. Full details not yet known.

Committee run 21st April- club to provide sausages/ rolls etc BYO salad.

Restaurant Run 23-06-23 @ Leeming Sardar is the hare. Club will put in $10.00 subsidy making cost to Hash member $20.00.

We said our final Bon voyage to Never Hard who is leaving our shores this week. He has promised or threatened to return in February 2024.

Gadget advised us that Rowdy Rabbit has gone bush in the Philippine's and won't be returning any time soon. So, Farewell to Rowdy.

On a serious note, below is our GMs response regarding the incident at Cowpat's.

Dear Fellow Hashers, I learned at Friday nights Hash, that the previous weeks run on Friday 24th March at Cowpat's place, that at the end of the night, a member of the Friday Hash chose to wash out their food bowl in the garden's fishpond leaving behind in the water, the remaining contents of that night's dinner. I am totally dismayed and utterly disgusted that a member of our Hash Group would foolishly think that such an action might be considered okay. It is not okay. There were live fish in that pond who thankfully are still okay. I have called and spoken with Cowpat and apologised on behalf of the Hash. Such disrespect for someone else's property is not acceptable and is not okay. We are invited into the homes of our fellow Hash members when they lay a run and provide us with a meal at the end of the circle. There should never be a question of how we treat that persons home and property. I would like to think that this was a one-off isolated act of foolishness that will never be repeated. When we leave any run site, it should always be left clean and tidy with all rubbish removed and whilst there treated as if we were in our own homes and gardens. I would suggest that we bring a plastic bag to take home dirty plates and spoons to wash later.
