RUN: 1708
Hare: Roxby

Date: 10/05/ 2024
Venue: Ocean Reef

The rain forecast couldn't scare 35 hashers to attend to Roxby's Run. It was probably the good work of the returning R/A who managed to push the rain way south as we didn't see a single drop of rain the whole day. One trail on chalk with a walker's diversion she said, and a warning to "follow the fence to the drink stop". Of we went, and soon we realized that if you were not in good terms with spec savers you couldn't be in front. The arrows were so faint that it took more than one flashlight to find them, but they were there, and they lead us to a Drink Stop with a very exotic drink. (Korean apple wine with blood orange) and it ended up on a delicious dinner with chicken satay skewers, veg korma and nice green curry.

Runners Report

HogShit: We went this way and that way, then the other way. Difficult arrows to see, waited at the drink stop for Mega that went is a rescue mission. → 9.75

Walkers Report

Lofty: Good walk...plenty of hills. Interesting trail → 9.5
