RUN: 1761 Date: 06/06/25 Hare: Ding Co Hare: Biro also Chief Cook

Venue: Coolbinia

Run Numbers: 35

Dogs: 3

Runner's Trail Length: There were variable reports as to the actual length of the very well-marked trail. The RA did an exceptional job keeping the clouds away. Under crystal clear skies, only a piece of the moon, plus numerous street lamps illuminated the hare's HUGE chalked farrows. Megawatt informed me the length of the trail he completed was 6.5 KM. Hogshit recorded the trail. His footfalls ran for 7.6 KM. Modern technology, in Bulldust's capable hands measured the trail as 8.6 KM. My that man can run! He blitzed this trail again.

Walker's Trail Length: A length of 4.3 KM was reported by Hardcase. The On Sec praises the loud calling of the walkers. This assisted the runners to dodge a very long loop. With so many farrows I am surprised the pack did not get hoarse calling at every opportunity!

Run Report: Phantom did the duty tonight. Declaring the run was just perfect! She ran in Bulldust's wake on every false. It was well marked and a good length. Tightarse called out "A drink stop with a hot toddy would have been nice" due to the night's chill.

Score: 9.85

Walker's Report: Returnee Mouth Organ loved the venue. The neighbourhood was filled with beautiful homes, mansions and gardens. There were many hills. The ups and the downs kept the group together.

Score: 9.75

The On Sec notes there were five walking stragglers. This caused the hare a bit of angst. Hooray! No need to send out a search party: Radar, Mel Adjusted, Inspector Gadget, Lofty, Slugger and STFU arrived in the nick of time to tuck into the nibbles with the rest of the gannets.

Stand-in Piss Pourers Ballwrinkle and Sybil made plenty of Splash for the Down-Downs.

Visitors: None

LTNS: Dynamo and Hardcase have returned from Scotland. Bigus Dickus has returned to Perth from Thailand. Mouth Organ and Ballwinkle did not bring a note to explain their absence.

RA's Circle

Mountain Hawk focused on last Monday, a Public Holiday in Western Australia and nowhere else. The RA was appropriately rugged up tonight in her winter layers. Adorning her head piece were "glass bush" leaves, fresh from her organic garden. Yo Adrian has never seen these shiny leaves before. The botanical spelling eluded Cookie but I thought I heard say, pittosporum.

I digress, the Public Holiday was a good excuse to give a drink to all those locals, the clan of those hashers native-born to WA. I counted six or eight. Out of the 35 hashers present they were in the minority. FH3 is a diverse mob. Mountain Hawk made up a nifty ditty about WA sandgropers. Tigtarse denied any involvement in penning the poem or rights to the tune.

Mountain Hawk called out a hasher to represent for the French for D Day. The H3 choir sang, "Wish Me Luck As I Say Goodbye"

There was a big win in world soccer for Australia. Our tribe scored the final goal of the match - Australia versus Japan. Tigtarse, a former soccer coach at a questionable level, stated the only song that the Brits sing at a football match is "O Lay O Lay O Lay O Lay." He parlayed this into a drink.

An aside, it was noted that Horny Flasher was not here tonight with her hats. Speculation began as to why? Was she still celebrating being the first octogenarian GM of the Motorcycle Hash?

Highbeams pulled the On Sec aside and queried if Yo had a problem with facial recognition. Throughout last week's rag Yo referred to Highbeams as Shifty. OOPS! Sorry. It probably will happen again, but Yo hopes not. Apologies offered.

Charges from the Floor

Tigtarse charged Lofty for eating the last biscuit during Circle. Lofty tried to talk with his mouth full. Bad manners. Have a Down Down to wash that last morsel down the hatch.

Lofty charged Yo Adrian for boosting his run numbers up! He missed last week. In Yo's mathematical world, 233 can transmogrify to 293 because 3x3 is 9. Yo appointed Lofty to have her drink.

Mel Adjusted charged STFU for desecrating the Hash Trail. FH3's four legged little German shat upon the trail! Hogshit takes a Down Down because it is his dog. However, his lovely wife, Slugger received an accolade for carrying the full green doggie poop bag for much longer than necessary. Mel Adjusted sent her to a "non-existent" red doggy excrement bin. Naughty man! Troppo broke out in "Zi pity Do Da."

In all the commotion, Radar and Troppo stood in for Horney Flasher for a drink as the newest GM spawned by FH3. "All Things Bright and Beautiful."

General Business

A large bag of chalk for marking trail was put out in the Circle for those who are in need (of it).

Wenchy has lost property from The Palace Run Tuesday night. It is really nice bright torch. No takers.

Cookie produced a pair of lady's black tights left in her house after her run. Tights were examined. Wenchy exclaimed, "Those are mine!" Why did she leave them on the floor? It was too hard to go down. OH, dear! Lofty (with a mouth full of corn chips this time) began talking trash to Wenchy about going down. This utter nonsense earned them both a Down Down. Troppo was quick off the mark with "The Horse's Head/Ass" song.

Inspector Gadget requires sixteen FH3 members, who have not set a trail this year, to put their hands up and fill an empty slot in the FH3 Trail Calendar.

Megawatt reminded us it is two weeks until FH3 weekend away. There will be two trails. The short trail is approximately 8.9 kms. The long trail is 17 kms. Please read the flyer attached. It gives a graph of the trails ups and downs. Look's quite doable for our level of fitness. Be prepared for rain, though. Car shuttle to get the walkers back to the various trail start points has to be arranged.

The accommodation is full.

Megawatt needs numbers of those who are going for the day hike, lunch and drinks only.

Bookends & Zero Heroes

Whoosies/Recovering Wimps	Zero Heroes	Bookends
Correction: Highbeams not Shifty had the sore shoulder last week. Yo Adrian took Sherbie for a short wander before both their backs went out. First wimp! Bigus Dickus came On Home early Animule wandered in just after Bigus	Replicar 1130	Phantom 1501

Dummy Shorts

Nominations: Inspector Gadget was light on nominations. He tried to pawn them off on Troppo for his second round of Christmas Cracker jokes. FH3 booed NO!

It was decided unanimously Inspector Gadget likes the Dummy Shorts so much it would be a carry-over.

Jokers

Inspector Gadget told a joke about Paddy and Mick. Paddy must have a circumcision. He asks Mick if he is circumcised. Yup. I had it when I was three days old! Did you have any side effects? Not that I remember but I did not walk for a year. (Ed. good joke)

Tightarse told a joke about "never felt a thing" after sex in a hotel. I did not get it....

Troppo read more jokes from his special upmarket Christmas crackers collection. Worse jokes than last week. Someone please purchase a subscription to Boy's Life magazine for Troppo. It probably has more cerebral material.

Hogshit told one but I lost the plot.

Song: FH3 altogether.

Points of Hash Etiquette

Leave parking for Troppo & Phantom's van closest to the venue. Second spot closest to venue should be saved for Hardcase and the Piss pourers. Mental Disorder should be using the handicap parking bay.
