RUN: 1767 Date: 18/07/25 Hare: Pickled Piker Co-Hare: Megawatt
Subiaco Oval Pavillion, Subiaco

Runners: 38

Dogs: 2

Back in Action Yo Adrian - the Hon Sec – off the sick list.

This venue has been used by FH3 many times in the past. Pickled Piker and his co-hare, Megawatt, had us traipsing about the suburban streets and laneways of Subiaco. I was at the back of the last walking pack. I think there were two or three walking packs. I caught up with Cookie chatting with visitor TWA when we were treated to a mob of the native children wrapped up with their blankets gathered under a tree for a night of socialising and drinking, at full volume. They took no notice of the considerable number of runners flashing by followed by chattering walkers. Yo caught up with LTNS Tutti Frutti. We were right behind Inspector Gadget and Mel Adjusted. The group in front of us split in two. Some chose to follow the Animule. Following our intrepid short cutter is an adventure. Others marched boldly forward on the road to nowhere? Maybe they crossed onto the runner's trail. A couple ladies confessed to turning back for home. The four of us followed the well-marked trail of farrows. All the checks and turns had been marked. Hogshit had done his duty, saving us the trouble of doing unnecessary falsies. We made it to the runners/walkers split. It was smooth going to the drink-stop. Ginger wine was on offer to warm the cockles served up by Horny Flasher and Pickled Piker. Buldust breezed in, commenting the walkers had decimated the drink stop. On home was just across the carpark! Hashers early home already set out the nibbles; the cash box for drink money was found!

Conducting of a Short Circle

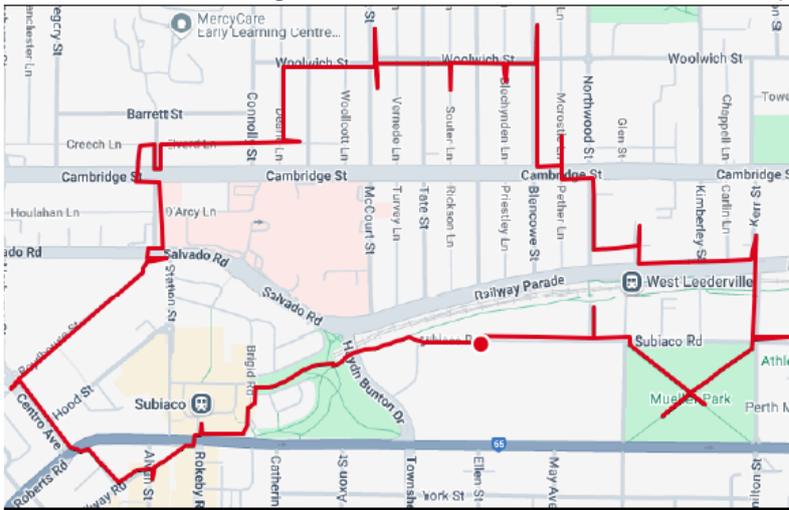

Numerous breakaway groups chatted amongst themselves oblivious to Megawatt's call for the Circle to begin! LTNS were busy catching up with mates.

Some starving hounds could not be pulled away from the food! This was a pack of 38 uncontrollable hounds. I give the GM his dues. Eventually the mob migrated to form a circle.

Megawatt welcomed our visitor, TWA (Tight White Ass) from the Harriettes to come out for a drink. Quick off the mark, Tigtarse deem if one “tight ass drinks,” all “tight asses” drink. He is never one to miss a chance to swill Roxby’s Splash.

Time for the Run Reports!

Bulldust was singled out to of the runners to critique tonight’s trail. Déjà vu!

Weren’t we here a couple of weeks ago? Unfortunately, Ding put the wrong street address up on the website. Bulldust first went to 20 Roberts Road. He found Perth Modern School before making his way to the Subiaco Pavilion. A few extra steps never hurt anyone.

True to his tradition, Bulldust did all the false trails! He did not get lost this time! He noted it was a sneaky Hare to put the farrows around the corner instead of in front of the corner. (This marking one of Phantom’s pet peeves. It has the potential to bugger up a trail!)

Score: It was like pulling hen’s teeth! Finally, 9.69 came out of the Bulldust.
Runner’s Trail Length: 6.1 kms by Hogshit

Walker’s Report: Sheep Shunter reported in was square. Just a big square!

Score: 9.5

Walker’s Trail Length: 2.89 kms

Horny Flasher is back to lead us in song!

Birthdays: None

Special Runs

Well, the On Sec has done it again. Tonight is Troppo’s 1499 Run with FH3. Yo ordered a bespoke cake for Troppo, to be baked by visitor, TWA. With her brain affected by flu and a bit foggy, Yo gave the wrong date to TWA. So tonight, we celebrated with cake! Next week we will do all the other paraphernalia which accompanies such an auspicious landmark in his hash career!

The RA's Circle

In the Celtic Calendar there were no feast days this week! There was a miracle! High Beams was called out to represent the lost German traveller found in the thick bush in outback WA. Mountain Hawk and Horny Flasher sang, pitch perfect, "Amazing Tanya" to the tune of Amazing Grace.

USA Singer Connie Francis died this week. Yo Adrian representing her corpse, endured a strange FH3 crowd rendition of Connie's hit, "Stupid Cupid".

Sheep Shunter was out front because he is a living, breathing, walking miracle! Last week he recovered from two strokes! Wearing the silly red plaid hat, the RA noted as they were walking on trail, Sheep Shunter disappeared! She thought he had fallen having another stroke! This is when he dipped into the yard to have a pee. It was another stroke of sorts mused Tightarse.

After weeks of testimony, Mrs Patterson was finally found guilty of putting deadly nightshade mushrooms in her infamous Beef Wellington. Cookie had to wear the Bad Girl hat. Mountain Hawk and Horny Flasher excelled themselves in a special ditty about a pie that was meant to kill.

There is pea and ham soup for tea. GPS represented the ham in spikey black hat. He had queried what we were having for dinner? Knee High told him Pickled Piker told her, "Pea and ham soup" but don't pee on the ham". Lost something in translation and laughter.

No further update on the ongoing Mr Fish Saga.

Charges From the Floor.

Radar on Knee High for driving badly, racing through the streets of Subiaco to not be late to FH3! This caused Tutti Frutti to wet her pants while in fear of her life! They got the sombrero hats and the Vino Song.

Wenchy was charged for playing pickle ball before the run with Pickled Piker's balls! Zip It got caught out in this fiasco for playing with pickled balls at the drinks stop. They are Bad Girls!

Sir Fumbles on High Beams for ripping off heaps of doggy poo bags at the drink stop. She does not even own a dog. They were for her cat! Bimbo Song for her!

Mel Adjusted introduced Inspector Gadget. Tightarse had called Gadget "Dead Squid"! Viking Hat upon his head Tightarse tried to defend himself. Instead, Troppo sang him a song encouraging him to fester and rot in the urinal while tied to a Harriette.

Sybil on Tutti Frutti for putting her run money in the beer tin. An improvement I say. Last time it was bottle caps in the money tin!

Tightarse on TWA for being the "white" member of the family.

Troppo was treated to a special 1500 song composed by Tightarse.

General Business

The GM reminded everyone about the upcoming Committee Xmas in July Run #1769. It will cost you $5 a head for food.

This is a XMAS theme run, so dress accordingly. It is going to be cold!

If you want to eat you must bring a plate, cutlery; also, a drink vessel is mandatory !!!!!!!

LTNS: Buttered Buns, Cowpat, High Beams, Pickled Piker, Tightarse and Tutti Frutti plus TWA who had to have a drink with Tightarse!

Trail Master Report

The calendar has one vacancy left for this Committee Year! There is a short list of six regular FH3 members who attend regularly but have yet to lay a trail for the Club! The lucky winner will be drawn at the Committee Christmas in July Run!

Dummy Shorts

The shorts are again back with WP. Who has had them the most? GPS or White Pointer? A statistic inquiring minds couldn't care less about!

Nominations: White Pointer charged Sir Fumbles for losing his Cookie at the Drink Stop. GPS nominated Tutti Frutti for spilling his drink. She did not even offer to buy him another. Her defence was lack of funds. She lost her change on trail! Mountain Hawk believed Sheep Shunter was deserving of the Dummy Shorts. Sheep Shunter excused himself on trail to duck into someone's front yard and have a pee! This elicited many comments.

There was a tie! Sheep Shunter and Sir Fumbles! Who will it be? Obviously, the one who had to pee!
