RUN: 1782
Lathlain

Date: 24/10/25
Runners: 24

Hare: D Liva Rants
Dogs: 2

Yes, you've got one more week to put up with the stand-in Hon Sec cum scribe, Inspector Gadget before the delightful Yo Adrian returns from her travels across Asia. The day started with clouds and rain at midday with threats of more rain to come. So, things weren't looking so great, which could have influenced how many Hashers decided to show up at the easy to reach Lathlain address, which also I am pleased to say had no parking restrictions on the grass running along the edge of the park (unlike last week...). But, having said that, as can be seen from the above numbers, we had a drop in attendees from last week. Come on guys, its only H2O, bring a broly and a rain jacket... As we paid our money to Radar and chit chatted with the early arrivals, the skies were not looking very favourable, but we had well illuminated and a large, covered area as our run site with amenities and the door unlocked to the toilet/change room area. Always a positive...

The Run. Our GM Megawatt saw his watch get towards the point where the big hand pointed at the 12 and the little hand pointed at the 7. Then he called all and sundry to form a circle. But it seems like half of the Hash have problems with their hearing aids and continued with their stories of the week's happenings and general chit chat. It took a few louder efforts to get everyone's attention, and a circle started. Our Hare for the night (D Liva Rants) gave us the usual story of chalked Farrows and how there was a

Walk and a Run. But as we looked around the throng of Hashers, we realised that Replica was the only Runner there... It was quickly agreed that he would 'run' with the Walkers and cover all the Checks and False Trails. Off we went following the Farrowes. From my usual spot at the back of the Walkers with Mel Adjusted plus this week were joined by Radar, Slugga and Camel Toe, we found that the first check around hadn't been marked.

I forgot to raise this in the circle later, so Replica got away with that one... Halfway around, Camel Toe left us in her dust and zoomed away leaving me wondering what she had taken, hahaha. It wasn't too long before the four of us found the Drink Stop and got a round of Port & Lemonade drinks from D Liva Rants just in time before she closed shop. We were the last back to the run site and the timing was spot-on as the rain started to come down. Timing is everything as the saying goes.

The Circle

After everyone had had a good dip at the Nibbles Table, Megawatt called for everyone to form a circle. The RA Mountain Hawk declared that she had had perfect control of the weather keeping the rain at bay until everyone had got back. Difficult to argue with that. Though I should comment that just before the GM called for the Circle, I was bemused to watch Sybil fussing over Megawatt ensuring that he was looking spot-on in his appearance. Teamwork.

D Liva Rants was asked to enter the Circle whilst we discussed the run itself. Only a Walkers perspective was needed and Hardcase was called in and asked for his thoughts. He said that the run was well lit and marked and gave it a score of 9/10. Short and sweet from our returning Hash Splash.

There were no LTNS or Visitors this week to call in and the Circle was quickly handed over to Mountain Hawk for her deliberations of the week as RA. She was most impressed by her control of the weather happy with having a dry walk and now wearing Ivy as the end of season nears, though it was pointed out that Ivy never dies. The RA commented on a kangaroo who visited a bar looking for a bouncer (boom boom) followed by an appropriate song about tying a kangaroo down. The RA then commented on how the day was International Champagne Day and how three people had mentioned this to her (I was one of them). She mentioned that Churchill had commented during WWII that Britain was fighting to save the Champagne region from the Germans, not just France. Sybil took a Down Down as a token Champagne drinker. Shadow and D Liva Rants came in for a DD doing a Mexican dance. TightArse was given a DD for uprooting a tree along the walk. He couldn't believe that his wife has singled him out for this. No doubt it sounded worse than it really was. Then Gadget got called in for an accolade for being the stand-in scribe and Hon Sec. for the last three weeks. Come back Yo Adrian, all is forgiven... Then on in for D Liva Rants for her drinks table in front of a very well-lit church and possible miracles. Last in for a DD was Replica for slowing down to join the Walkers.

Charges from the Floor

Replica for an accolade as a stand-in Hash Splash covering for Troppo. Radar spotted Kanye for paying his weekly run fee using a $100 bill. Gadget called in Animule for his lack of parking skills as he drove onto the grass and then used his bull bar to great effect pushing a wooden parking stump and then reversing back. TightArse called in D Liva Rants for her first trail marking of WF, not WTF...

Shadow against Roxby for doing a happy dance at the start of the run. Damn, I missed that...

Gadget advised that there were no Book Ends this week, but two Zero Heros just the two: Sir Fumbles – 960 and Sybil – 710.

General Business:

The GM declared that next week's run was a dress up run for Halloween Night.

There was one birthday this week for Camel Toe who was celebrating one week early as she won't be on the run next week. Various flavoured cupcakes were shared after the meal. Thank you, Camel Toe.

Dummy Shorts. Clockwork Orange is the holder from last week, but no prizes for guessing that she was a no show tonight. So, they become an automatic carry-over to next week.

Song - Hats Off as Knee Hi led us in the Club Song.

Dinner tonight was a hearty soup pot and boiled potatoes. Thank you D Liva Rants.
