RUN: 1808

Date: 8 May 2026

Hare: Phantom

Venue: Kingsley

The Run

A good evening for a Hash Run, dry and not too cold as 24 Friday Hashers turned out. Which given that a bunch of our regular members are away in Indonesia doing their best to uphold FH3 traditions on the road.

For the rest of us with no flights or ships to catch, Kingsley it was. Ding is still MIA in Korea and once more you have to suffer with Inspector Gadget as your stand-in On Sec and scribe. Our Hare for the night (Phantom) had laid one trail with lots of Checks and False Trails. My idea of how best to lay a run. The only problem was that there no one up front carrying some chalk to cross out the False Trails etc., leaving the slow coaches to try and cover it all.

Runners Report

Horny Flasher got the Circle under way asking Clockwork Orange to once again report on the Runners Run. She started off by wishing us all a Top 'O' The Evening claiming that it was an excellent model run on how to set a trail (see my above comment). The Drink Stop was at the end of the run and Clockwork was looking for champagne rather than a Port and lemonade, but nevertheless she scored the run as a perfect 10/10.

Walkers Report

Shifty was asked to comment on the Walkers Run. Her comments were short and sweet declaring that the run was a nice long walk with a few ups and downs scoring the run as 9/10.

Visitors and LTNS

This week there were no Visitors or LTNS.

Charges

Our regular RA – Sheep Shunter took over the Circle and started to dispense Down Downs by calling in White Pointer with a claim that whilst talking with Knee Hi he had suffered with memory loss. Next in was Sybil who had found a discarded bed mattress on the side of the road and proceeded to give it a good testing. Horny Flasher was interested to know if she had strapped it to the top of her car... The RA dispensed a DD before she could respond. Next in were the two dog owners, Mental Disorder & Slugger who had failed to curtail their pooches from yapping and barking. Mental claimed that Dos' barking translated into What a shit RA Sheep Shunter was... I got the impression that the RA missed that comment... (not anymore). Inspector Gadget thought that for once he had escaped the attention of the RA. No such luck... Gadget was called in to be asked the usual question of did he know what day it was? For a change Gadget said yes and declared that it was the 100th Birthday of Sir David Attenborough. NO said the RA declaring that it was VE Day. Following this the RA recited another of his found Limericks about a girl with big tits. Last in was Ballwrinkle who was given a history of Coca Cola and some kind of connectivity to Ball Wrinkle.

Charges from the Floor

Ballwrinkle led the charge call in Knee Hi who during the run had called him Bulldust in error. Maybe their height had her confused. Who knows, but what I did know was that it took Knee Hi an incredible long time to finish her Down Down... Mouth Organ called in Shadow for having splashed out on a new car, a Toyota that will get to keep the number plate RUBY. White Pointer called in Phantom for having found and included the only hill in the run.

Zero Heroes

We saw Shifty receive her 400 Run badges having achieved the 400th Run a few weeks ago. Clockwork Orange scored her 50th Run and as Book Ends had Gadget with 220 runs with Sybil on 727 runs; Mouth Organ with 333 runs and Animule with 888 runs.

Birthdays

Other than Sir David Attenborough there were no birthdays and as he failed to turn up there was no birthday cake.

General Business

No announcements were made.

Dummy Shorts

Troppo duly turned up wearing them. The nominees were White Pointer for being confused as to who should be wearing them... And Hogshit over a dogfight... The usual round of cheering from the Circle ended up with White Pointer being the winner and Troppo handing them over.

Jokers

Jokers for the week were Cookie – She told us about 5 year old children asked to spell simple words, until it came to Mohhamed who was asked to spell discrimination... Troppo told us a true story about a house on fire... Gadget brought up the rear with a story about a husband and his new luminous wrist watch... They each shared the usual Hash Down Down.
