RUN: 1806

Date: 24/04/2026

Hare: Cowpat

Venue: Padbury

The Run

It was a dry evening though a little somewhat cool or some might've even said cold. But it was dry after a day when showers were possibly threatening. Twenty-seven Hashers had assembled at Cowpat's house in Padbury and at 7pm everyone was lead outside for a simplistic set of run of directions with Cowpat pointing across the road saying "It's that way". No mention of a Walkers Run or a Runners Run or a drink stop, just "Over there" and off we all went.

Once back at the Hares home and after the table of nibbles had been ravaged, the Stand-In GM Radar called everyone together to form a Circle around an outside enclosed fireplace. Radar wasn't the only stand-in with Inspector Gadget standing in for our On Sec Ding who is away for a few weeks.

Runners Report

Clockwork Orange was asked to report on the Runners Run, which can be now mentioned that there was indeed separate Runners and Walkers trails. Clockwork mentioned that she was trying to follow Bull Dust who on 5-6 occasions went off in different directions. Bell Boy was also mentioned though why that was escapes me... The score for the run was a solid 10.2

Walkers Report

The report on the Walkers Run was looked after by Mel Adjusted. He was working up to excitement having in the early stages got caught out by some false trails that hadn't been marked off as the chalk was with Replicar who was on the Runners Run... Mel Adjusted thought that it was good trail that went backwards and forwards, and there was mention of a false drink stop by Radar. The score given was a 9.6

Visitors and LTNS

Visitors this week was a solitary Hasher who came with Roxby, and that was Drag Queen. And as it happened Roxby was our only Long Time No See. Good to see you both.

Charges

The Circle was passed over to our RA – Sheep Shunter to see who would be called in this week for character assignation. First up was Clockwork Orange for running without a torch in a shirt that he claimed needed washing... Something about an Irish Eye which went over my head. Just as well maybe. Next in for his weekly Down Down was Inspector Gadget who was asked if he knew what day it was (other than it being Friday). Gadget was at a loss to then be told that it was national Pig in a Blanket Day. This is a cooked sausage wrapped in bacon served up in the UK. Hardly a delicacy, but to some it might be. Troppo was next for a Down Down for turning up at the Hash without his other/better half, Phantom. Something about a bad back and a frisky morning was mentioned... Next call for the week by the RA was Mental Disorder so that Sheep Shunter could further question him about a car accident last week and where it supposedly took place as there was some confusion about location. Why? Who knows and who cares?... The RA then gave us a Scottish Limerick which left a few in the circle looking bemused. Last man in for a Down Down was Sir Fumbles to tell us all about his new digital Hash Camera.

Charges from the Floor

The floor was opened to those in the Circle to call Charges. First in was YoAdrian who wanted to share happy memories about skinny dipping at school. Next up was Hard Case with an accolade for Inspector Gadget for helping to rescue some friends who had walked up Bluff Knoll taking over 10 hours to complete the walk up to the top and back down. Normal expected walk time is 3-4 hours, but then that didn't take into the account that one of the walkers was 82 years old. Last in was Bull Dust against Troppo for playing with his horns. You work it out, I couldn't...

Zero Heroes

Next according to Ding's pre-typed report sheet was Special Runs. This easily confused Gadget who previously used expressions of Zero Heros and Book Ends on his Run Report reminder sheet. Then it was later mentioned that Shifty had done 400 runs and Radar with 600 runs, though there was some confusion with our Historian (Mel Adjusted) seeking to review both and in turn has taken away the Big Red Book. We will get to the bottom of this next week and suitable presentations made accordingly. Note: Please sign the FH3 Book so we can celebrate your run milestones.

Birthdays

We then got straight into the segment of Birthdays and the only recipient this week was Cowpat whose birthday is a few days away, but she chose to cook a cake and share it with everyone today, though it didn't get served until after the meal had been served. She was given a rousing chorus of the Hash Birthday Song.

General Business

Hashers were reminded about the Rocky City Pink Breast Run coming up soon on the 28th of April 2026. And YoAdrian told us a story about InterHash which is soon to be held at Borobudur, Indonesia and thus was a most timely story. With that I take this opportunity to wish all attendees to this year's InterHash a great trip and a safe return back to Perth.

Under Special Business, Mental Disorder asked for volunteers to help look after the Hash Splash whilst he and Menstrual Disorder are away for 3 months. Initial volunteers were Bell Boy & Shadow. It's possible they may need others to jump in to help look after the Splash, so please don't be shy about putting your hand up to help out.

Jokers

Jokers for the week were Troppo who explained why Gadget was single which involved Siri and his iPhone... Cookie told us about horseshoes that led to a Donkey being told to F. Off... Bull Dust told us about a ski trip and three guys sharing a room with one bed which involved wanking, dreaming and skiing... The usual Hash Down Down was shared by all.

Dummy Shorts

The Dummy Shorts were last seen with Knee Hi from last week. But as she will be travelling, they were handed over to Light My Fire for them to be redistributed.

Nominations were called for with Bull Dust being nominated for False Trails; Gadget for tripping during the run and a Carry Over for Knee Hi. Guess what Knee Hi? They are still with you when you come back...
