The Run

What can I say, the RA did his job with yet another dry Friday night for our weekly run for 29 FH3 Members. As the GM called everyone to form a circle to get our run directions from Hardcase, both Bulldust and myself again commented on the fact that the GM's horological timing keeping is in advance of everyone else's. Problem is that we cant say anything as the GM is always right... The Runners, all two of them plus Hogshit with Zippy (STFU) travelling in his Medicare pram, went left and the Walkers all went right. The promise of a Drink Stop put a spring into everyone's step...

Runners Report

The Circle took some getting under control with lots of chatter about a certain game of footie and what the current score was. Bulldust was called upon to give his verdict of how the run went. Something about blue language at the start and lots of checks had them going round and around. And missing the drinks bag... End result being a score of 9.7

Walkers Report

DIY entered the Circle to comment on the Walkers Run. She thought that it was a good run (walk) but wasn't sure how long it was, not that it really mattered as there were a number of short cuts that Mal Adjusted and Gadget easily found. DIY scored the Run as 9 point something.

Down Down to "The hairs of her dicky dido..."

LTNS

Initially it was thought that there wasn't any LTNS's, but rather than miss out on this it was decided to call in Big Bang who had missed only one week, though he is usually missing more often than not...

Down Down song was "Long time no see"

Zero Heros

Mountain Hawk was called in for achieving 680 Runs

Down Down to "Ought to be publicly shit on" for taking so long to come into the circle

Book Ends

Just the one Book End this week with for Mental Disorder on 161 runs.

Down Down to the regular Down Down song.

Charges from the RA

Sheep Shunter never needs to be asked twice to step in and dish out his weekly awards and beers. First in was Buttered Buns who it was claimed needs to visit Spec Savers. Why you may well ask, so don't... Her DD song was "If it wasn't for her mother"

Next in was Ballwrinkle as the sole Yank and the expectation that P. Trump is going to be sending him USD5,000 for swinging the elections and the RA reckons he should share this with the Hash. DD song "He ought to be publicly pissed on"

It was then noted that Melbourne has become the capital of car thefts for Oz and it was then noted that Mental Disorder got his You Beaut new 4WD Hilux wagon from there. You can work out the rest from there... DD to "I like the vino"

It was now the weekly Limerick Time with the RA still practising on his presentation with Angels. Mel Adjusted had one about wearing glasses. Troppo had one about location, location, location. Then another featuring the two Mentals. His DD was about "A little dick".

Tightarse had made one up about Ballwrinkle involving a dimple and a shrinkall for which he got a DD to "Himbo"

The RA's final note was about 1914 being a date when Australia invaded PNG and the Germans there. As the expression goes, it went across like a lead balloon, or was that a lead Zeppelin?...

Charges from the Floor

First in was Tightarse to call in our newest 'young' member, Tampax. His reward being a DD to "He's really stupid"

Mel Adjusted was self-nominated for forgetting to bring the Beer Tin money box, his reward being a DD to "He's really stupid"

The last nomination was a classic in true Hash traditions. Mountain Hawk called in Ballwrinkle for letting his hair down. But everyone knows he doesn't have enough hair to let down. What she really meant to say was Bulldust. But as soon as the words left her mouth, she knew she had dropped a clanger, as did everyone else. The only thing that they have in common is their height. So the charge was reversed to become a self-nomination that would later have other Hash recriminations. Her DD was the "Bimbo" song.

General Business

The GM updated us all on the forthcoming Special Hash Run a week from the day for the Fund Raiser "Close To Your Heart" run. She thanked Mel Adjusted and FH3 members who volunteered to help run the bar that needed people to be duly licenced. Everyone from the FH3 please note that you are requested to only wear FH3 Hash clothing. On the night we will need volunteers to arrive by 4:30pm please to help out with various aspects of setting up for the event, so please step forward and offer your support, thank you. Those who haven't as yet pre-registered and paid for the run, you may still do so. Or on the night the run fee will be $25 instead of $20.

Dummy Shorts

Bulldust didn't have any nominations for handing over the Dummy Shorts and seemed quite happy to keep them for a while longer. However, the circle had nominations starting with Mel Adjusted for forgetting to bring the Beer Tin and Mountain Hawk for her snaffu with getting Bulldust and Ballwrinkle confused. The Circle had no trouble with an overwhelming cheer for Mountain Hawk and so it was that once again the Hawksworth family get the Dummy Shorts back. Her DD song was "If it wasn't for her mother".

Jokers

Big Bang led off with a rather convoluted story about getting his penis tattooed with a green $100 bill as a Father's Day present. The GM followed up with a story about being naked in the shower. Thank goodness for Troppo with his story of an elephant catching a bus but really needed to be seen on his moped...

They all shared the usual Hash Down Down Joke Song.
